

MANY TROUBLES FACE STOCKSALE

Several Players Reported Ill and Another Hurt in Getting Off Car.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Lynchburg, Va., April 2.—Manager Stockdale is having his troubles early this spring, but he is optimistic and declared this afternoon that he would rather have them now than after the team reports, and certainly rather now than after the season opens, for he had his fill of mishaps last season during the championship race.
The trouble began when Burden and Hooker reported that they had the grip. This morning came a report from New York that Burden, an infielder, sprained his ankle getting off a street car and that he would be unable to report for at least a week. Coupled with this is a report from Baltimore that Pitcher Doyle has been taken ill, and has gone to a hospital for an operation. The report is that the operation is not a serious one, but the player does not expect to be able to begin work before May 1.
The report from Doyle caused the manager to get busy, and transportation was immediately sent to Patterson, a Baltimore pitcher, who was signed during the winter. Patterson has had some professional experience and ought to make good in the Virginia League. He should be here in a day or two.

Witrock Awarded to Lynchburg.
Syracuse, N. Y., April 2.—Secretary John H. Farrell, of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, to-day handed down a decision awarding T. J. Witrock, of Philadelphia, a pitcher, to the Lynchburg, Va., club. Scranton claimed the right to his services.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Baby Mine." Wm. A. Brady's international success, which will receive its presentation in Richmond at the Academy on Wednesday and Thursday, April 10-11, with a special matinee Thursday, comes with a record of one sold year at Daly's Theatre, New York, and has reached its second year at the Criterion Theatre, London. This phenomenal success takes on all the aspects of a screamingly funny comedy that has no let-up in its laughing department. Play patrons attending the performance during its engagement at the Academy will be agreeably surprised by noting that it is unusually well interpreted and proves far above every expectation in the running line of seat sale tomorrow.

WITH THE AMATEURS

The Capitol City and Old Dominion Leagues at their meetings last night made preparations for a grand opening automobile parade to start from the City Hall at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

It is expected that the Richmond and Central Leagues will make arrangements to unite with the above leagues in this movement.

The Central League will meet tomorrow night, and the Richmond League will meet Friday night. At these meetings plans for the big parade will be discussed.

The Hillside, of the Richmond League, are a good bunch of ball tossers, and if they keep together all season will find themselves in class "A" next season. Manager Orange is very proud of his team having been victorious over a class "A" team last Saturday.

There is considerable talk of a league being formed among the railroads entering the city. The boys at the Southern freight house have about made up a team which will in all probability represent that road should the move come to a head.

The amateur commission expects to have a park completed before it is time to play in postseason and inter-city games. No site has as yet been decided upon, but several are in view.

The American Clothing Company's team are expecting to receive their new suits every day. The suits will be placed on exhibit in the firm's window when they arrive.

Jenkins's Pets and the American Clothing Company will cross bats at Byrd Park Easter Monday morning.

Manager Easton, of the Clothing Company, has signed a first man in Outfielder Harris, formerly of the Pets.

facturers, once brought to look upon misbranding and adulteration in the right light, would condemn it. It was not the choice of men to adulterate food. The idea itself is obnoxious. The pace was set by a few large interests, and the smaller manufacturers either had to follow the same practice or get out of business.

Says Law Has Been Thwarted.

The pure food and drugs laws, said Dr. Wiley, have been robbed of their greatest usefulness because officials in charge of enforcing them have failed to perform their duty as they should. The same interests which maintained lobbies in Washington for the purpose of fighting food and drug legislation, he said, have since its enactment brought pressure to bear against its enforcement.

Despite their lax application, said Dr. Wiley, the laws are nevertheless accomplishing great good, and will do more in proportion as public opinion rallies to their support and demands their strict enforcement. They need also to be supplemented by other laws. The greatest need at present, said Dr. Wiley, is an efficient food storage law. Cold storage, properly used, he said, is one of the greatest human blessings, abused, it becomes an instrument for monopoly and for the dissemination of impure and even dangerous food products.

Has No Fear of Judiciary.

In connection with the enforcement of pure food and other regulatory laws, said Dr. Wiley, he has no fear of the American judiciary. Despite the seeming present-day fashion of inveighing against judges and representatives in Congress, it was his opinion that, as a rule, these are as honest as the great bulk of the American people; in many instances more honest.

"You need have no fear of the judiciary in this country, now or ever, in my opinion," said Dr. Wiley. "As a rule, judges and Congressmen are not corrupt. If a Congressman is elected from an honest community, he is pretty apt to be an honest representative. If you will let him know what you want, and bring it to his notice often enough, you will get it."

Dr. Wiley will lecture again at Richmond College to-night. He will speak to the students of the University College of Medicine this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Smoker at Jefferson.

Richmond members of the Virginia Chemists' Club gave a smoker at the Jefferson Hotel last night in honor of Dr. Wiley. Thirty-five members and specially invited guests were in attendance. Professor E. C. Bingham, of Richmond College, president, and President A. M. Forrester, of the Chemists' Club, introduced the guest of honor, who made a short address.

Dr. Wiley reviewed the organization of the American Chemical Society, the largest organization of its character in the world. He advocated the formation of a Richmond section of the society. The chemists present voted unanimously to support Dr. Wiley in his work of pure food reform, and especially in the lecture program which he has mapped out as his immediate work.

BENEDICTINE LOSES TO MASSEY

Massey Business College defeated Benedictine College yesterday at Byrd Park by the score of 8 to 6. It was an excellent game of ball, but Benedictine weakened in the eighth inning and Massey scored seven runs winning the game. The Benedictines were in the lead and playing the better game all the way. Overman, the Benedictine pitcher, has been working too much of late, but with that Massey made but four hits off his delivery until the eighth inning. Martin, Heirholzer, Overman and Fletcher played great ball for Benedictine, while Gregory, Defarge, Debned and Hall batted and fielded well for Massey.

Score: Massey Business College, 8; Benedictine College, 6.
Batteries: Massey Business College, Gregory and Defarge; Benedictine College, Overman, Heirholzer and Fletcher.

Benedictine plays Petersburg High School on Thursday at Byrd Park.

Petersburg has a very good team this year, but Benedictine has lost two hard-luck games, and are determined to down the Petersburg High School.

LOST CLOTHES AND CASH

Telegraph Operator Robbed by Man He Helped.

Edward H. Garvey, who said he was a telegraph operator, appeared at police headquarters yesterday in a suit which appeared to have been cut for a man about three times his size.

He explained his peculiar attire by saying that he had been robbed by a roommate of all of his clothes and $15 in cash.

Garvey said he was sharing his room in a lodging house at Seventh and Franklin streets with a stranger, whom he had befriended. He said that the man was driven out and accused him on the street Monday night for assistance.

When he awoke yesterday morning he found his room empty and his acquaintance, all of his clothing and valuable missing. Detectives are seeking the thief.

FAULKNER GOES FREE

Nobody to Testify Against Him Who Stayed in Jail a Month.

Because his only appearance to testify against him, the case against Bernard Faulkner, nineteen years old, who was held by the police as a suspicious character, respected of a felon, was dismissed yesterday morning in Police Court.

Faulkner was arrested about a month ago by officers Wheeler and Thurman. His sister, who would have been the principal witness against him, is said to have left the city since his arrest. Faulkner has been in jail.

CASH IS SENT ON TO GRAND JURY

Negro Charged With Attacking
Miss Rouse Waives
Examination.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Hanover Courthouse, Va., April 2.—Addie Cash, the negro arrested at Ashland Sunday afternoon charged with attacking and robbing Miss Myrtle Rouse, a young school teacher, appeared before Magistrate George Heath here this morning. He waived a preliminary hearing and his case was sent on to the grand jury. This afternoon, in custody of Sheriff Hall, he was taken back to the jail at Richmond, where it is supposed he will be confined until the time for his arrival, when he will be brought back to Hanover.

Cash was brought to Hanover from Richmond, where he had been placed in jail last night, on the morning train to-day, and he was immediately taken before the magistrate. Following his waiver of preliminary hearing, the prisoner was ordered sent back to Richmond.

Miss Rouse, the victim of the negro's brutal attack, who has partially identified Cash as the guilty man, did not appear this morning. She is still at Ashland, and is gradually recovering from the effects of her terrible experience.

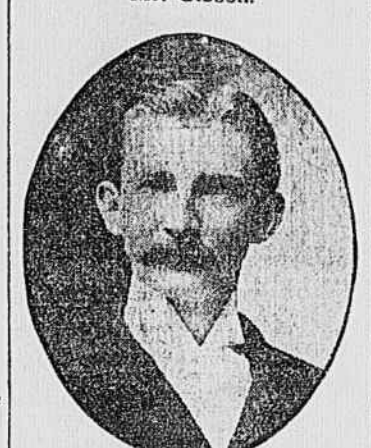

The next regular term of the Hanover Circuit Court will be convened on the third Monday in May, but a special term prior to that time may be held for the trial of the accused. Cash has not as yet retained a lawyer, and he does not seem very greatly worried by the serious charge against him. He continues to assert his absolute innocence of the crime.

There were no signs of any hostile demonstrations against the prisoner to-day, and his appearance before the magistrate consumed only a few minutes' time. There is, however, intense feeling in the county against Cash, following his partial identification by Miss Rouse, and to avert any possibility at attempts to deal summarily with him it was decided to have him confined in the Richmond jail instead of keeping him in the rather out-of-date prison here.

Cash was returned to the City Jail yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Hall, and he will remain there until his case is called for trial at the courthouse. It was feared that the county lock-up would not withstand any attempts at a jail delivery should there be any demonstration against the negro.

NEW MINISTER COMES SUNDAY

Special Exercises at Broadus
Memorial to Welcome
Mr. Gibson.

REV. W. E. GIBSON.

Rev. W. E. Gibson, of Middleburg, Va., the newly elected pastor of Broadus Memorial Baptist Church, will take charge of his new pulpit on Sunday. The membership and congregation are preparing special exercises of welcome.

Mr. Gibson is not a stranger in Richmond, having spent four years at Richmond College, which institution he received the degree of bachelor of arts about fifteen years ago. He went from here to Crozier Theological Seminary, at Chester, Pa., where he graduated three years later. Immediately afterwards he accepted a call to a church at Wichita, Kan., where he held a pastorate for three years. He then went to Washington city, and later accepted his present church at Middleburg, near where he was born, and where he has a wide acquaintance.

In his work in Virginia Mr. Gibson has been remarkably successful in stimulating and organizing the benevolence of his field and quickening its interest in the missionary, educational and philanthropic work carried on through the boards of the Virginia Baptist General Association. The field has made steady progress during Mr. Gibson's leadership, until now it occupies a first place among the churches in the community in gifts to the several mission boards.

Another thing that has marked his ministry in his present field for the seven years during which he has been there has been his growing power as a preacher. He was not only a close student, but a man of recognized ability, during his college days, and he received the orator's medal during his senior year. He has been a student ever since, and is recognized to-day as a preacher of marked ability.

Mr. Gibson is also a pleasing writer, being the author of a love story, entitled "A Marital Messenger."

NEVER SAID MAN SHOULD PAY REGULAR SALARY TO WIFE

Mrs. Wiley Not Responsible for That Pay Envelope Yarn Which Husband Brands as Mendacious Tale.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley last night attributed the Mrs. Wiley salaries-for-wives story to the inherent mendacity of Washington reporters. That much was apparent from the warmth with which he hailed the tale which has been receiving liberal space in the editorial and news columns of the day.

The reporter for The Times-Dispatch wanted to know how the former chief chemist of the Department of Agriculture regarded this division of the spoils.

"What that cook and bull story attributed to Mrs. Wiley about making man pay a weekly salary to his wife? There is a word of truth in it. My wife never made any statement of that kind. I had a letter from her to-day, in which she says that these reports have greatly mortified her."

Asked if he had allied himself with any definite organization for the purpose of carrying on his future work, Dr. Wiley replied that unless a convincing plan requiring every husband to divide his pay envelope with his wife. According to some reports, the frau is to get one-third of the weekly salary. Other accounts place it at even one-half.

AMHERST DEFEATS NORTH CAROLINA

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., April 2.—By scoring four runs in the eighth inning, the Amherst College baseball team was easily victorious over the University of North Carolina to-day, by the score of 6 to 2.

The Bay State boys started the game off with a vim. Pitts, the second man to the bat, knocking a three-bagger. The Tarheels made no hit in the first inning. Vernon pitched for Amherst, fanning two men.

During the next six innings, by the excellent handling of the slab by Bailey for the Southerners, the Tarheels scored two runs. Thus the score stood two to one until the eighth inning, when one wild throw caused the Tarheels to go to pieces. The Amherst team worked the opportunity for
